The narthex is the space between the glass doors and the Church doors.

In the second, third and 4th mass of November we remember friends and relatives. If you would like the names of your families and friends to be included, please fill out and return a slip

This weekend is the Archbishop's collection, This is for important concerns of the bishop . These include evangelisation, ministry to young people and the care of the very elderly priests.

On the 9th November, this weekend, in Merton and Sutton cemetery at 2.30pm with an opening prayer by the chapel, Priests and Deacons will be present to bless graves with the families present, joining them in a service of blessing.

The Catholic Children's society helps children and families in need. They sell Christmas cards that are Christian pictures. Their card brochures are in the narthex, the spaces between the glass doors and the Church doors.

Cafod offer gifts which will help another person, these funded gifts develop the lives and hopes of people throughout the world, and should be a worthwhile alternative to chocolate or red wine.

On the weekend of the 22/23rd November you are invited to meet in the hall after the 6pm and after the 11am masses. The idea came from a letter written to a priest saying that for 5 years no-one had spoken to her. So in particular, I would like to invite people new to the parish and those who have not yet met anyone.
