There is a second collections this weekend for the Cathedral. The diocese invites you to become a "Friend of the Cathedral, supporting the daily life and work of the Cathedral, the focus of the diocese celebrating the central events including the ordinations, Racial Justice, the Paschal Triduum and the social outreach of activities throughout the diocese such as Cafod, welcoming immigrants and racial justice

The Parish quiz night, this year on Saturday the 21st of March is open to parishioners especially, on the evening anyone coming in will be invited to join a team, last year a team, gathered for the first time that evening won a close contest. It is also a social event, meeting new people taking part in the auction of desserts and enjoying the bar with non-alcoholic and alcoholic drinks available.

Last weekend families who would like to send their children to a Catholic school or receive one of the Sacraments in this parish were invited, at the 6 and 11, this weekend the 9, to take an attendance paper, write the child's name and return the paper to me after mass. This I accept as an objective record of attendance. Without this data throughout the years, I would not sign a certificate of Catholic practice nor freely welcome children on the parish sacramental programs.

The nearby hospitals because of privacy legislation, do not visit patients unless requested directly through the ward or indirectly by request. If you know you or a next of kin will be in hospital and would benefit from the Chaplain's visit he will respond to requests or via parish priests.
